Most students' primary reason for attending college is to obtain a quality education, and DLU gladly supplies this demand. While academics may be a primary reason for choosing a school, organizations often determine how well a student adjusts to and enjoys a school. Right: Student Life at Lipscomb involves many things. One of the everyday activities is socializing in Bison Square. Most students are often seen with their favorite friends around campus and Bison Square has definitely been THE place to be!

We would like to encourage you to look at the whole of Lipscomb's student life. While Bible, devotionals, and daily chapel make up vital elements of the Lipscomb experience, they are not the whole. Take a look at Lipscomb Homecoming activities, always bigger and better than the year before. Is Singarama just another musical, or a performance to be remembered? Lipscomb has also started some new traditions--check out the brand-new shorts policy and the uniform dorm rules for both men and women. For a lot of Lipscomb students, we definitely need to look past the merely traditional ...

Student Life

A New Way to Meet Old Needs

By the end of its planning period, students, faculty, and administrators alike were frustrated and short-tempered. Nevertheless, a new trial chapel stystem was finally up and running by October 3.

In a special chapel service designed to explain new chapel options, Dr. Steven Clark minced no words emphasizing the importance of daily chapel. "If you don't want chapel at all," he said, "you're at the wrong university. Chapel is here to stay, and we need to find out if this new system will work."

Instead of being assigned a chapel, each student chooses from six options, ranging from all-men's or women's worships to the traditional gathering in Collins Auditorium. Students also can select different chapels for MWO and TRE.

Dr.Clark and the administration believe that this is the best solution for meeting students' individual needs. "We're going to give it a try," he said resolutely. "If it's a fiasco, at least we tried it."

Whether it's a fiasco or a new tradition, this new chapel system is one more piece of evidence that times are changing at DLU.

Above: Doug Varnado's chapel venue offers devotional singing, scripture, and prayer. Students now have a chance to enjoy his worship ser vice everyday.

Believe It or Not-A New Bible Tradition

Perhaps the most traditional of all the programs at DLU is the daily Bible requirement. David Lipscomb himself stipulated in the school's charter that Bible is to be taught every day alongside the more traditional academic subjects. In the spring of 1994 , the Bible department reaffirmed David Lipscomb's position, and emphasized the university's commitment to the study of Bible as an academic subject, by unanimously passing a new grading scale. The new scale raised an A to 93 percent and a B to an 85. Student uproar was immediate. The most common complaint was that this new scale would hurt GPAs and that more stringent guidelines were unfair in a daily required subject. Dr. Mac Lynn, chairman of the department, responded that the statistics show that Bible grades remained high despite of the new scale--students as an average still do better in Bible than in any other subject. The previous lack of a uniform Bible scale was "inconsistent and caused much confusion with the students, " said Lynn. "Bible is as important as their other subjects, and at DLU, it is an academic subject and should be studied as such. " Lynn believes that the new scale has had some very positive results--students are taking their study of the Bible more seriously and are realizing that an A or B in Bible shows a level of achievement and is not a "give-away grade."

Opportunity: Growth in Christ

Devotionals at David Lipscomb

Spiritual development is a priority at Lipscomb, and devotionals give students a less formal atmosphere in which to work on it. From the ever-popular Tuesday night devo to roommates sharing Scripture and prayer, devos encourage fellowship and personal growth. Find one that's right for you and get involved- it's worth it!

The Good News World Wide

Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Honduras, Germany, Kiev, Ukraine, Bucharest, Romania, Vienna, Austria, London, England, Merida, Mexico, Barnul, Siberia, and countless places here in the United States, the Lipscomb missions program has covered the world this year.

A mission trip is one of the toughest yet most fulfilling experiences that Lipscomb has to offer. Whether giving shots and pulling teeth in Guatemala or teaching English using a Bible in Kiev, a large number of students and faculty eagerly seized the opportuninty to continue Christ's ministry away from home.

And we still remember Tom and Margret Hicks in Bucharest, Romania. Often described as a life-changing experience, DLU's Mission efforts continue to expand. A new missions center in the basement of Burton and record numbers of partici pants confirm this. And plans to add three more cities to the above list are already in the works. "New" is the only way for the Lipscomb missions program.

Sandi Swartzel is a business management major from Vicksburg, Mississippi, and is thrilled at the position her peers awarded her. "I'm very honored-I can't believe it," she said. "I hope that I can represent the school in a good way." Those who know Sandi have no doubts that she can and will .

Bachelor of Ugliness

Steven Hayes

Steven Hayes, a speech communication major from Nashville, is also surprised and honored at his election as Bachelor of Ugliness. " I was more or less stunned, "he said. "I'm appreciative of being nominated, and I really feel honored about the whole thing."

Note: Miss Lipscomb and the Bachelor of Ugliness are time-honored traditions at DLU, and Sandi Swartzel and Steven Hayes add their names to the distinguished list of recipients.

Off-Campus Ministries

Have you been looking for an area of service that really needs you? Would you like to help an underprivileged child develop reading skills? Do you enjoy leading singing or teaching Bible classes? Do you want to offer hope and in return feel uplifted? If you answered "Yes!" to any of these questions, the Youth Hobby Shop or Nashville's Inner City Ministry might be precisely the service opportunity that you've been looking for.

The Youth Hobby Shop is a tutoring program designed to help inner-city youth foster reading skills in a Christian atmosphere. The Inner-City Ministry takes hundreds of kids to area churches nearly every night of the week for singing, prayer, and Bible study. From bus workers to Bible teachers, these ministries have a place for anyone who wants to serve.

Going To New Lengths

It was greeted with rousing cheers and immedate acceptance, and DLU can't say that about a lot of new policies. However, the new shorts rules proved to be a large exception.

After intense discussion and much student pressure, the administration announced at the end of the spring term that it was relaxing the shorts policy. Students are now allowed to wear shorts to class and around campus during business hours.

Technically, the new policy is still on probation, but if students follow the regulations, it will become permanent. In any case, during the hot weather, students are cooler and happier.

And the face of DLU keeps changing!

From the Heart & Harmony

One special area of performance at Lipscomb is small singing groups. From the Heart and Harmony are two such groups.

In its fourth year, From the Heart consists of five members: Trey Gay, D.J. Smith, Megan Smith, Meritt Brown, and Jennifer Bean. These talented performers auditioned for and were selected by the Admissions office, which sponsors them. They sing at youth rallies, churches, and schools, and help with recruiting. They plan to record a cassette tape this year.

Harmony, consisting of Jeremy Hiett, Jeff Fincher, Brad Brown , and Kevin Cawthorne, is in its third year of performing. Self-sponsored, this group currently has a cassette in stores called "Plant the Seed."

Reading Between the Lines

"There are many aspects of life that just can't be articulated. It is this area between black and white print that can say more than any word could say. The students of David Lipscomb University invite you to look where the real substance of life is found--between the lines." (Singarama program, 1994)

Life, People, Success, and Time encouraged "Reading Between the Lines"-- in the 31st annual Singarama production.

Delta Nu, Gamma Lambda, Gamma Xi and Friends showed that "Life is Forever." Chad Emerson directed. Rachel Hodges and Marilyn Hudson co-directed. Delta Tau, Omega Nu, Pi Delta, and Friends in their discovery of "The Power of the People."

Homecoming '94

Lipscomb alumni flooded the DLU campus on November 12, 1994, for a day full of reunions, basketball games, festivities, and drama. Starting in the morning with musical performances and a special chapel service, the Homecoming events continued with the presentation of Bachelor of Ugliness Steven Hayes, Miss Lipscomb Sandi Swartzel, and queen Kimberly Petty and her court.

Later in the day, basketball games at McQuiddy Gymnasium against Montevallo for the women and Bluefield for the men drew huge crowds. The Lady Bisons won their nail-biter game 73-71, and the Bisons won big once again 134-89.

The Homecoming drama production of The Music Man capped this full day. This ever-popular musical brought Homecoming 1994 to a successful close.

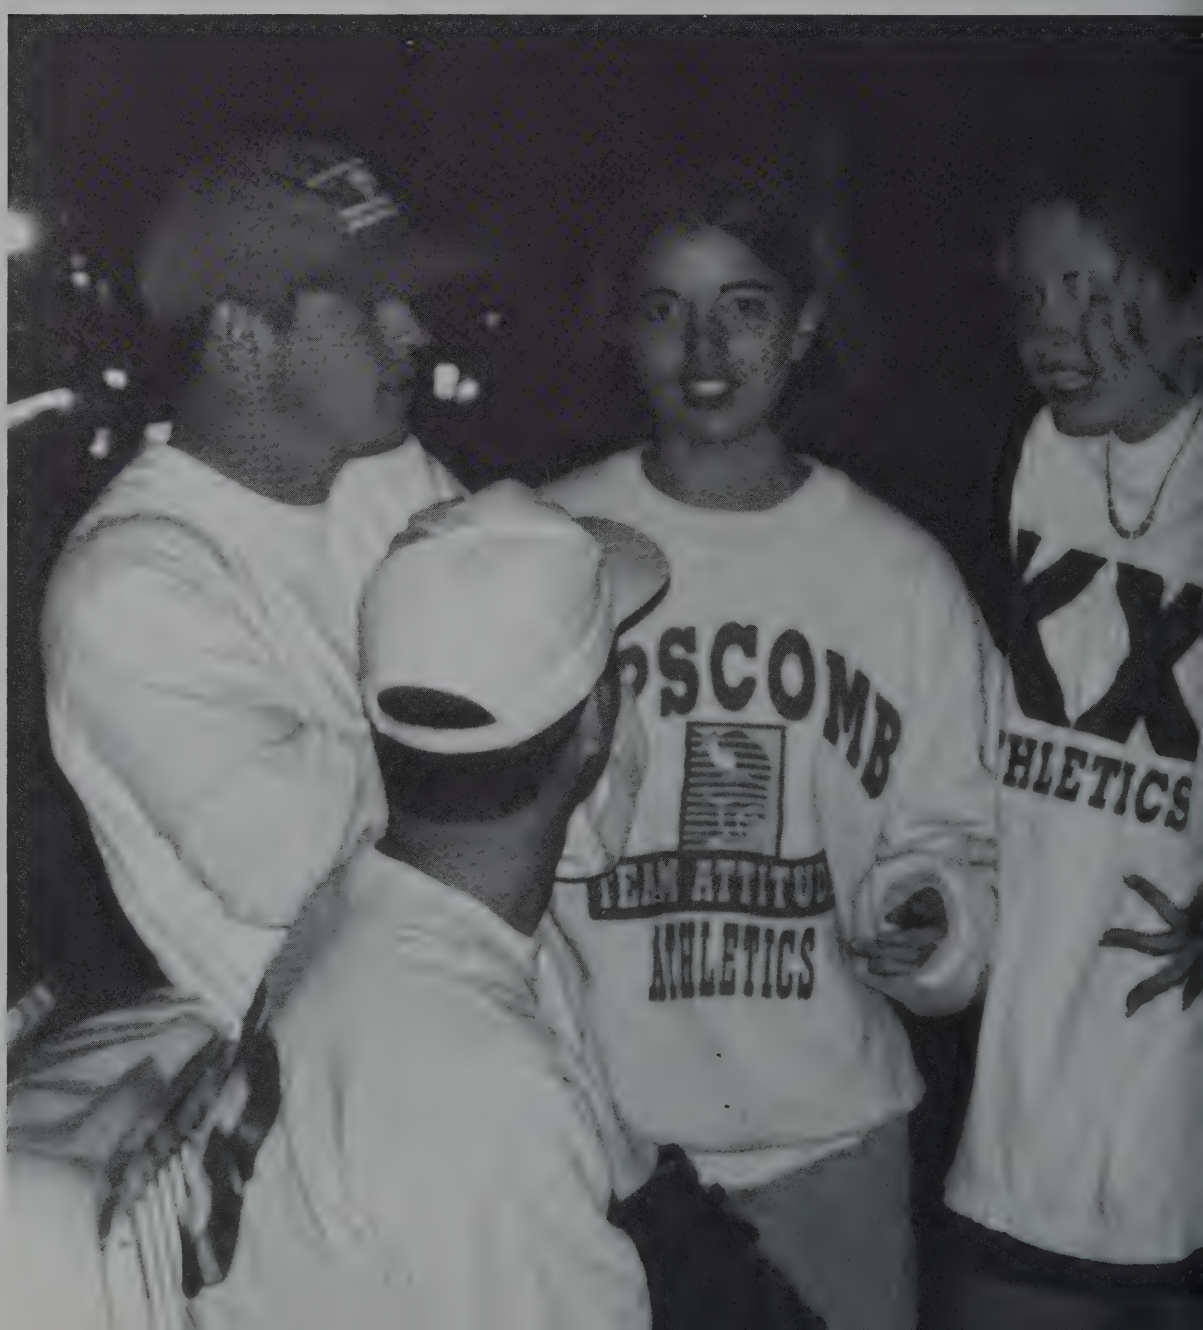
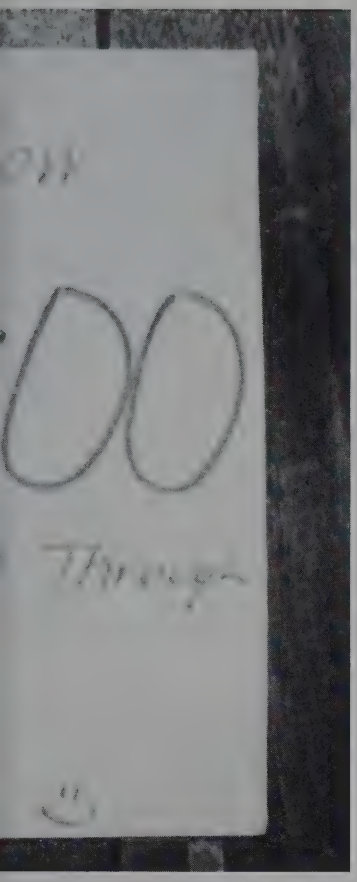
Right: This notice can be found in both men's and women's dorms now.

Above: One place scanners are still in effect--the doors on the dormitories.

Right Sorry, guys, that's just the way it is! Same rules for everybody!



Equality For All ... Residents?



Equal rights and consistent policies--the new rules for men's dorms finally match the ones that the women have had for years.

For security reasons and in adherence to the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the administration decided to put alarms on the side doors of both Sewell and High Rise. As with the women's dorms, the alarms are turned on at 9:00 PM, and the only way in or out is through the front doors. If the alarms are set off, the offending party is fined.

The men and women residents split opinions on this issue. Most women felt that that this policy was long overdue; most men thought that it was foolish and inconvenient. In any case, these rules are here to stay, and both male and female students can enjoy added security in their homes--away--from--home.

In His Name: Sharing the Word

One of Lipscomb's most unique and entertaining performing groups is In His Name. By acting out modern-day parables, group members bring Biblical principles to vivid life in an understandable way.

Primarily student-run, In His Name travels to church functions and youth rallies around the country, sharing its ministry. This group is always a favorite in chapel. In His Name is another fine example of talent put to work for spreading God's word.

"I AM HENRY THE EIGHTH"

He took six women to wife and shook a country to the depths of its foundation--King Henry VIII of England and his wives were brought to vivid life in the spring drama production Royal Gambit: The Six Wives of Henry VIII. Brian Games portrayed the powerful, petulant King determined to procuce a male heir in spite of the Catholic Church and his own feelings for the women involved. The production painted a striking picture of the six very different women whose lives were forever changed by the ambitions and desires of England's most powerful man.

Meredith Willson's best-loved musical, The Music Man, was DLU's 1994 Homecoming production. This comedy tells the story of con man Harold Hill, who comes to River City, Iowa, to sell the idea of a boys' band to the unsuspecting locals. However, one complication arises in Harold's plan: pretty librarian Marian Paroo, with whom Harold falls in love.

Directed by Dr. Larry Brown, this production featured Wes Driver as Harold and Jennifer Prichard as Marian. Playing to a full house each of the three nights it ran, The Music Man provided performances by some of the finest talent at DLU.

On top of that, after hard work on the parts of everyone involved, the music department achieved accreditation from the National Association of Schools of Music. And some news from the education department is the addition of a master's program in administration. The word from the Bible department is a new and much-discussed grading scale. These additions prove Lipscomb's quest for academic excellence--maybe traditions do have room to expand...

Academics

Where Lipscomb Is Going

Lipscomb University is more involved in mission and service opportunities than at any time in her history. Several of our high school students go to Mexico each summer to help with the City of Children in Ensenada. Our pre-med students work in Honduras, Guatemala and Haiti each year on spring and summer breaks. Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union are prime areas for our faculty and students who teach English, using the Bible as text. Over $1.5 million in medical supplies have been gathered and sent to Eastern Europe by our faculty and students in the past 3 years.

Lipscomb's academic strength continues to increase as well. Seventy-five percent of our full-time faculty now have the earned terminal degree in their teaching field (up from sixty-one percent ten years ago). Specialized accreditation by the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs, the Council on Social Work Education and the National Association of Schools of Music have been added during the past two years.

Lipscomb also remains a happy, congenial place to learn and to teach. Outstanding athletic teams, intramural facilities, concerts and dramatic presentations are among the exciting aspects of campus life.

As the quality of Lipscomb's faculty, staff and students continues to increase, and as God blesses us with additional resources, I see Lipscomb University only becoming better and better!

Dean Bill Davis: A New Vision

Lipscomb has a new dean of students, and Bill Davis is excited to be here. "When I think about the opportunity to serve in this capacity, it blows me away, " he says. "Being here is an answer to prayer."

Dean Davis brought a wide vision with him when he took over the "controlled chaos" in the dean of students' office. "I want to focus on student empowerment," he says. "I want students to look around DLU and to take personal ownership of it." Along with that, he wants to strive towards realizing a goal he shares with President Hazelip--to make DLU a school for all people, a cosmopolitan and international campus.

The new dean believes that creating the thought processes that will allow excitement and enthusiasm while retaining holiness and spirituality is crucial for Lipscomb. And with the full support of his wife Cathy and son Benjamin, Bill Davis is ready to forge ahead.

Honor Code Council

In its second year, the Honor Code Council continues to enforce the aggressive stance that DLU has taken against cheating and academic dishonesty. Led by president Bryce Northcutt, the Council consists of three seniors, two juniors, and two sophomores. Dr. James Arnett, Vice-President of Academic Affairs, is the primary faculty sponsor.

The Honor Code Council follows strict procedures when a student has been reported for cheating. After the report has been made, the Council investigates. The accused then comes before the Council, who appoints a member to defend that person and another member to serve as prosecutor. The hearing is set up like a trial, with both sides presenting evidence either for or against the accused. After the evidence has been presented, the Honor Code Council votes, and their decision is binding. Sentences for a guilty verdict range from a zero on the assignment to a note of an Honor Code violation on the student's permanent transcript.

Council member Brian Roark states, "There is a very tight procedure, and it's very impressive the way it works. It's a very respectable and effective organization." He and the rest of the Honor Code Council hope that students realize the significance of this procedure and continue to use it when necessary.

University Ambassadors

If you've ever wondered who those dressed-up people giving tours to prospective students and their parents are, here is your answer. They are the University Ambassadors, students who work with the Admissions Office at introducing visitors to Lipscomb and making them feel welcome during their time on campus.

Besides giving tours, the University Ambassadors also answer questions about Lipscomb, talk with prospective students, and generally serve as a welcoming committee. They write follow-up letters to all who have visited, encouraging contact with DLU and offering assistance. The University Ambassadors serve as an important link between Lipscomb and future students, and they are to be commended for their work.

The Music Department

Many people at DLU know little about one of the most versatile and talented departments on this campus: the music department, chaired by Dr. James Jackson. So take a look at this department that is much more than flyers on the walls of the student center.

The music department sponsors several shows each year featuring big-name groups and performers, such as the Baltimore Consort. Other performances include frequent student and faculty recitals. The department also offers a variety of vocal and instrumental ensembles, open to music and non-music majors alike. From the A Capella Singers to the Early Music Consort, the music department is open to all sorts of different talent. If your interest is in marching bands, Lipscomb concert band students have the opportunity to march in the Vanderbilt band during football season. Private lessons in voice or an instrument, theory classes, and song leading instructions are also available. You don't have to be a music major to take advantage of the diverse opportunities in Lipscomb's music department.

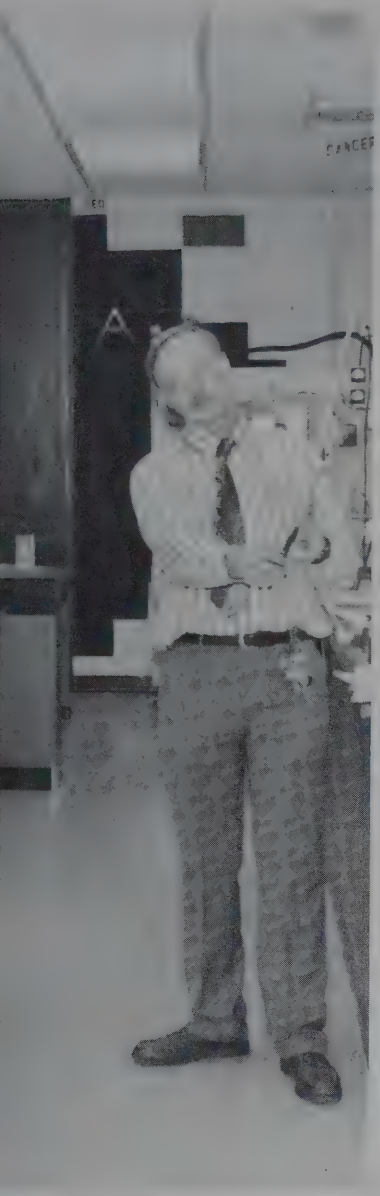
Below: This may not be a live snake, but the biology department does own two that are living and breathing.

The Science Department



Even as you read this, a dead body lies in the McFarland Science Building.

But it's not what you think. For the second year, Dr. Phil Choate in the DLU biology department has applied for and received a cadaver for student use in studying anatomy.

DLU was granted its first cadaver in the fall of 1993. Shipped from a cadaver wholesale company, the male body evidently died from severe emphysema. This year, the department has a female, apparently the victim of a stroke.

According to pre-med major Brady Palmer, a lot of time is required to properly dissect a human corpse. Dr. Choate devotes a lot to his spare time to this task, and the pre-med program at Lipscomb benefits greatly from this exposure to human anatomy.

Already sending 80 to 85% of its majors straight to medical school, the DLU pre-med program continues to provide a superior preparation, and with such added bonuses as a cadaver, it constantly strives to improve even more.

So, don't worry. There may be a dead body in Mcfarland, but it's in good hands.

Graduation

Lipscomb granted 209 diplomas in its May 1994 graduation ceremony. Although inclement weather forced commencement into McQuiddy Gymnasium, the atmosphere was still highly charged with anticipation and excitement.

Dr. William S. Banowsky, a Lipscomb alumnus from Santa Monica, California, delivered the commencement address. Three students graduated with perfect grades. Sixty-eight graduates earned a Bachelor of Arts; 136 earned a Bachelor of Science; and 4 earned a Master of Arts in Religion.

December brought 106 new graduates. Twenty-seven earned BA degrees; 73 earned BS degrees; and 6 earned MAR degrees. Congratulations and best of luck on a new start!

Right: Hundreds of people are pictured in the photograph to the right, but no two people of the group are exactly alike. Each one of them has their own place in the Lipscomb community.

We contend that there is no such thing as a traditional student. Lipscomb's student body is as varied and colorful as each person's different face. The traditional student is like psychology's bell curve--great for generalities but never totally applicable to individual cases. DLU sees hundreds of new faces every year, and each is unique and adds flavor to the existing mix. It takes everyone coming together to make Lipscomb the school it is. The faculty, staff, graduate students,and undergraduates are all a part of David Lipscomb University. That's why we say there are no traditional faces here...

Roller blading has proven to be a popular pastime around Lipscomb.

Always be careful when walking through Bison Square. You never can tell what might be flying through the air.

Convocation

On October 5, 1994, Lipscomb celebrated its 103rd academic year with the annual convocation ceremony. Held in McQuiddy Gymnasium, this event drew record numbers of people, due in part to guest speaker Michael Durant.

Michael Durant is the Chief Warrant Officer who was taken hostage in Somalia during U.S. military action there. Durant offered his message to many middle and high schoolers, as well as college students, faculty, and off-campus guests. Later that afternoon, Durant held a question-answer session open to everyone.

Happy Birthday, Lipscomb!

Graduate Studies Programs

Lipscomb's two graduate studies programs are flourishing this semester. With close to 125 people doing their graduate work in Bible and education here, a whole new element of student life continues to grow.

The Bible program, directed by Dr. Mike Moss, has 72 students enrolled this semester. The education program celebrated its first birthday during the fall 1994 semester. Directed by Dr. Gary Breegle, it has 50 students enrolled, 32 of whom are currently taking courses.

Both programs have plenty of room to expand and their directors are excited about their progress.

Right: Two Tau Phi guys are taking it easy in Bison Square underneath a shade tree. social clubs are a major part of life around Lipscomb; with their bright club jerseys they can always be spotted by fellow students.

When students talk about their college activities, one of the first things they tend to tell people is of the organizations in which they participate. Whether it's an honor society, an academic fraternity, or a social club, these activities firmly identify us with varied aspects of DLU. From community service to cowboy shows, something is always happening with Lipscomb's organiztions. This year, we asked members of many of them to tell us something new or different that they've been involved with in their club. Take a look at the responses...

SIGMA PI BETA

A pre-professional organization for youth ministers and youth workers

"Fall of 1993; I remember twelve to fifteen of my really good friends and I sitting and staring at our chosen name-Sigma Pi Beta-on a chalk board filled with Greek letters and attributes of Youth Work. We had narrowed down a list of attributes to these three that we took our Greek letters from; service, Professionalism, and Balance. That fall, we shared an incredible sense of wonderment as we placed this new idea in the hands of our lord. Today, Sigma Pi Beta has over a hundred members that love, worship, and serve the lord together. There is a real sense of community in such a self-giving atmosphere. And we all pray God will use us each individually and as a group to His glory."

Student Government Association

The Student Government Association has been busier than ever this year, with new committees and projects continually pushing ahead. According to SGA Student Life Chairman James Rose, each regular commmittee is eagerly pursuing new activities.

The Academic Committee's big project for this school year has been the Academic Club Council, a panel of presidents from Lipscomb's many academic clubs and a method of promoting unity among these diverse groups. The Entertainment Committee continues to provide movies and concerts for students and is currently organizing a "band night," an opportunity for campus bands to perform.

The Spiritual Life Committee has become involved in an anti-pornography campaign in the city of Nashville and in cooperation with other area schools this year. The Student Life Committee keeps striving toward further campus improvement. Members are working on getting copy machines in the dorms and a change machine in the Student Center, as well as expanding after-curfew privileges and increasing chapel absences for seniors.

The officers of the SGA are the following students: Jon Moultrie (President), Jon Michael (Vice-president), Jenny Bunch (Secretary), and Danny Broadway (Treasurer). This organization is working hard and always appreciates student input.

The Babbler

The Babbler has new things springing out all over this year. The most visible of these are a new layout and masthead (above) in the weekly paper. According to editor-in-chief Erik Tryggestad, the newspaper's new appearance comes from ideas garnered at a college publications convention in Rock Hill, South Carolina.

The paper also sports a larger staff, primarily due to the heavy recruitment of freshmen during Advance 94. "We found a lot of good writers who filled a lot of gaps on the staff," says Tryggestad, who has also pushed for greater staff unity this year. "We have pizza parties, and the staff is much more involved in production and coming up with their own story ideas."

The Babbler's goal was to increase readership, and Tryggestad says this has been achieved. "We have a hard time keeping the paper in the student center," he says. "Maybe it's because we're more unpredictable this year. People are wondering what we'll do next. It's great!"

The greatest thing about running a school paper is the way that it parallels Christianity. You strive to be perfect, but you inevitably end up with typos, misquotes, and mistakes. Rather than get distraught about this, you just chalk it up to experience and move on. There's always next week's issue. You always get another chance to right the wrongs and make things better.

Kristy Wagner

September 14, 1973-March 16, 1995

Senior pre-med major Kristy Wagner lost her life in an automobile accident over Spring Break 1995, a shattering blow to her family and friends at David Lipscomb. President of Delta Delta social club and member of Alpha Chi Honor Society, Kristy majored in biology and double minored in management and chemistry and was slated to graduate magna cum laude from Lipscomb this May. She leaves behind her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wagner, sister Kathy Wagner, and many grieving friends at this university. Kristy's faith in her future after death is evident in these lines from her favorite poem, by Lottie Cheney: "In that book of love, God's Album,/May your name be penned with care,/And all who have written /Write their names forever there." We'll miss you, Kristy.

Delta Na Na Na Thrills Crowd

Delta Sigma and Delta Nu called the 28th annual Delta NaNaNa a huge success.

About five hundred people attended the only music show oncampus dedicated to rock music. DeltaNaNaNa featured tunes from classic Elvis Presley to seventies performer Janis Joplin. "Sweet Home Alabama" and the Village People's "YMCA" were the biggest crowd pleasers, with an Eagles' medley running a close second.

Delta NU and Delta Sigma want to thank everyone who came--and we'd like to thank them for another great show!

Tau Phi Cowboy Show

Tau Phi and country music--once again, the two combined for the 16th annual Tau Phi Cowboy Show. The ever-popular country music show was performed for a packed house, and no one was dissappointed. From soulful ballads to rocking country hits, Tau Phi and friends did it all. The highlights of the show included "How Can I Help You Say Goodbye" and "Is It Over Yet?" Way to go, ladies! Also drawing lots of cheers were "In The Pocket Of A Clown" and "If You're Going To Play In Texas."

For country music lovers, it doesn't get much better than this!

OK, we admit it--we're stumped. Excellence has always been the norm in Lipscomb athletics. And this is one tradition that most people never want to see ended. None of the athletic teams disappointed the school this year. From the basketball teams that are always favorites to the newest teams of soccer and volleyball, DLU's athletes never fail to provide exciting, action-packed competitions. We don't mind being stumped in our search for changes here--we'll take DLU athletics the way they are.

Athletics

At the top!

For the first time ever, the Lady Bisons basketball program advanced to the NAIA championship finals. To cap one of the best seasons in their history, this team brought home the runner-up trophy, finally falling to the Lady Redskins of Southern Nazarene, Oklahoma, 97-74.

Karen Killen was high-point woman, with 24 points. Beth Willis contributed 16 points and 9 rebounds. Beth Stewart put in 18 points. Stacia Blackwell netted 5, Sarah Marcrom 3, Jennifer Wood 4, and Allison Sain 4.

Although the Lady Bisons did not win the championship, they were very excited to achieve what they did. Head coach Frank Bennett said, "I can't think of another group that I could be prouder of than this group." Beth Stewart and Karen Killen were both named to positions on the NAIA Division I All-Tournament team.

Congratulations and thank you for making Lipscomb proud!

Bison Basketball

The 1993-94 season brought another great year for Bison basketball. Ending the season with a 29-6 record, the Bisons, coached by Don Meyer, advanced to the NAIA National Tournament in Tulsa, Okalhoma, before losing in the first round.

John Pierce capped his incredible college basketball career by becoming college basketball's all-time leading scorer in his final season with the Bisons. Pierce scored 4,230 points during his four years at DLU, topping former Bison and record holder Philip Hutcheson by 124 points.

Congratulations on another winning season!

Cheerleaders

They work camps for high school and junior high cheerleaders. They travel to most places that the Bisons and Lady Bisons play ball. They practice cheers and gymnastics for many hours. They raise the spirit level of the fans at basketball games. When all is said and done, the DLU cheerleaders are a busy group of young women.

Easily recongizable in their brightly-colored purple, gold, and white uniforms, the Bison cheerleaders ardently and visibly support the basketball programs. They entertain and enthuse during timeouts, dazzling the crowd with their jumps, flips, and tightly-wound cheers. The Bison basketball program somehow wouldn't be the same without the effort and hard work of the Bison cheerleaders.

Baseball

Spring of 1994 brought another winning season for the Bison baseball program with a 28-20 overall record. Coach Ken Dugan and his team finished third in the District 24 tournament this year. Sophomore Chris Gainer ended the season with 47 runs scored, 16 home runs, and 58 RBI's and earned All-Conference and All-District 24 honors, as well as being selected for NAIA and NABC All-American Honorable Mention.

Women's Tennis

Lady Bison tennis brought home a winning record and sported some outstanding individual performances during the last spring season. Coached by Trish Hodgson, the team had an 11-6 record overall and finished third in the conference and in the District 24 tournament. Team members Abby Close and Tisha White were named to the All-District 24 team and also joined teammates Ashley Morgan and Lydia Lampley on the All-District Scholar Athlete team. Freshmen team members Holli Hutcheson and Julie Grogan were the Lady Bisons' top-ranked players for the entire season. These impressive statistics, as well as the fact none of these women will be lost to graduation next year, give Coach Hodgson strong reason to believe that next season has a bright future.

Men's Tennis

The men's tennis team, coached by Jeff Spivey and George McIntosh, earned bragging rights for another successful season last spring. Falling just one game short of advancing to the NAIA nationals in Tulsa, Oklahoma, the team ended its season with a second place finish in the District 24 tournament. During the regular season, the Bisons won the TCAC championship, and as a result, Coach Spivey was named TCAC Coach of the Year. Two Bison players, Jono Huddleston and Andy Brunelle, were named All-District 24 players. With some strong underclassmen returning, the men's tennis team is loking forward to another successful season next spring.

Cross Country

The Bisons cross country program welcomed a new coach for the 1994 season: Lynn Griffith. Both the Bisons and Lady Bisons teams ranked fourth for the season in the mid-South region. Senior Brian Cost and sophomore Christina Tindol qualified to run in the national competition in Kenosha, Wisconsin. Cost placed seventy-second with a time of 26:17 for the five-mile course. Tindol, in her first time at the national meet, finished her three-mile course in 21:32. Congratulations to Brian and Christina for their accomplishments, as well as to the whole teams for a great season.

In Memory Of

Dr. Earl Lomax: December 4, 1948-January 11, 1995

David Lipscomb University mourns the death of Dr. Earl Lomax, a professor of English since 1980, who lost a lengthy battle with cancer early in 1995. Dr. Lomax served Lipscomb tirelessly and with great dedication during his years with the school. In the English Department, he specialized in early American literature, as well as young adult and children's literature, and worked closely with the Education Department through English and elementary education majors. He also acted as the faculty athletic representative; in this position he traveled extensively with the Bison basketball program and kept track of athletes' eligibility. Dr. Lomax sponsored the Tennessee Kappa Chapter of Alpha Chi National Honor Society at DLU as well.

Dr. Dennis Loyd, who officiated with Jonathan Seamon at the funeral, paid Dr. Lomax a fitting tribute with these words from Shakespeare: "His life was gentle, and all the elements so mixed in him that Nature might stand up and say to all the world, 'This was a man!'" Those who knew Dr. Lomax realize the truth of this statement and that this university will never be the same without him.

Volleyball

In their second year of existence, the Lady Bisons volleyball team finished the season with a much-improved record of 16-17. Coached by Jeff Spivey, this young team brought a lot of power and skill to their competitions with a good mix of freshmen and returning players.

Junior Emily Shelton was named to second team all-TCAC for the 1994 season. Shelton also joined teammates Shelly Lancaster, Valorie Bush, Dixie Sparks, and Tiffany McCord for TCAC Academic recognition.

DLU Golf

The golf team, under the direction of Ralph Samples, finished second place in three tournaments in the spring of 1994: the TIC, the TCAC, and the District 24 NAIA, during which they fell to Union by one shot. This fall, the team played in four tournaments and won one of them, the TIC. They are currently ranked 20th in the nation, and Coach Samples stated, "We are looking forward to the spring season because of all our new players." He added that the team this past year was a good mix of experienced and new players, with Daniel Cline, Travis Womble, Billy Pomeroy, Richard Lambert, and Peter Murphy leading the team.

Men's Soccer

With a fresh second season and a brand-new field, the men's soccer team steadily improved this year. Due to poor conditions on the old field, the team moved its game site to the open area between day-student parking and the library. The team's hard work and practice paid off--they drew loyal and vocal supporters as they held their own in the conference this year.

Congratulations on a good season!

Above: You put your left foot in, you put your left foot out--celebrating another victory, that's what it's all about! At least we think that's what these Sigma Chi Delta men are doing...

Intramurals

Crunching bodies, fast-paced games, and brutal competition. No, we're not talking about professional football, but we are talking about intramurals at DLU.

Under the direction of new supervisor Jeff Mankin, intramurals offer competition in sports from racquetball to flag football. There is a social club league and an independent league, as well as male, female and co-ed teams, so anyone who wants to strike up a team can participate.

If you don't want to play the games themselves but would like to participate, intramurals offer referee and scorekeeper positions as well. So if you want a little competition, intramural sports are the place to find it!

Intramurals Continued . . .

Things To Know Around Lipscomb...

Transfer Students

A whole new world-- or so Lipscomb seems to the average transfer student. Whether coming form a small community college or a big state university, many students feel a little disoriented when adjusting to DLU.

Along with problems concerning transfer credits and having to find new friends, many relocated students feel that they are expected to fend for themselves. While Lipscomb does offer an orientation for new transfers, they still often believe that since they are college veterans, they should easily melt right into the flow of Lipscomb life. Most transfer students will tell you that it's a little harder than that!

Reflection

A new student music group has emerged from Sewell Hall. Its name is Reflection, and members include John Reynolds, Brett Morris, Chris Markgraf, and Lee Watt. According to John Reynolds, "We just started singing in the stairwell one day and decided to form the group."

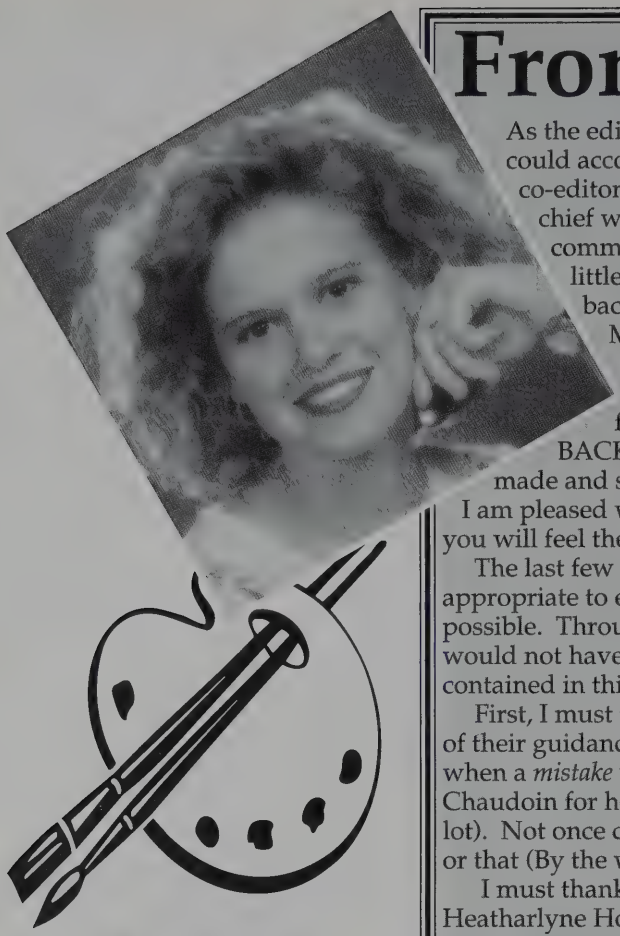
Reflection writes most of its own music and sings Christian A Capella. They have performed at church functions and youth rallies and will perform in February 1995 at Winterfest, a Gatlinbug youth rally that draws thousands. They plan to release a self-titled cassette within this school year.

Best Of Luck!

Why I'm an Independent

Social clubs keep a high profile on DLU's campus, but the fact remains that the majority of students are independent of any social club affiliation. We asked some of the students why they chose not to join. Here are the most popular answers:

1. I never had the urge to join.
2. They wouldn't let me in.
3. I don't approve of the selective nature of the clubs here.
4. I believe that clubs try to take away individual personality.
5. I haven't tried yet.
6. I don't have the time or money to.



From the Editor-

As the editor of the 1995 BACKLOG, I am excited to know I could accomplish my goal. I gladly accepted the position as co-editor for the BACKLOG to later become editor-in-chief when the other assistant failed to meet her commitment. Coming into this year blind and just a little afraid of the work ahead of me I can only look back and wonder about how it was all accomplished. Many long nights were spent making final decisions for deadlines I thought were truly impossible, but were always completed by the faith I had in myself and the other staff of the BACKLOG. Many ideas were expressed, changes were made and some aspects were not met to my expectations, but I am pleased with the overall composition of the book and hope you will feel the same.

The last few pages are finally finished and I find it only appropriate to express my appreciation to those who made it possible. Through all the hard work, effort and suport of others I would not have been able to make it through the many pages contained in this volume of the BACKLOG.

First, I must thank Dr. John Parker and David England for all of their guidance and support, and for always letting me know when a mistake was being made. Next, I must thank Kim Chaudoin for helping me out when I was in a bind (which was a lot). Not once did she complain about running here or doing this or that (By the way Kim, thanks for not tackling me in the hall!).

I must thank my two wonderful editors Lina Roberts and Heatharlyne Hoyt. Lina always came through with the pictures that were needed and needed quick. Thank you also for the moral support throughout the year. I could not have done it without you. Heatharlyne Hoyt, the BACKLOG'S copy-editor, contributed almost every word of written copy throughout this book, except for what is written on this page. Thank you for that! By reading this page, it's obvious I really could not have done this without her. As for the rest of the staff I would like to thank Laura Lane, Amber Barfield, Jennifer Scott, and Daniel Bell for all their extra help and dedication.

I most especially need to thank my best friend and staff member, Kristi Owens. It was Kristi who kept most of the mid-night hours in the office with me doing whatever was asked of her. Not only did she help with the book, but when I was feeling like the whole world was coming down around me and the deadline wouldn't be met, it was Kristi who was there to help me through it all. I only hope she can understand how very much I appreciate everything she accomplished for me this semester. Kristi is a very valuable friend to have and I hope that never changes!

I must also thank my fiance, Barrow Brown, for putting up with all the hours I spent here at the office instead of the time I could have spent with him. Although he was annoying and bothersome more times than often when he tried to help, I still appreciate the fact he made the effort to be by my side rather than some place else. I also need to thank Mama, Daddy, Randall, and Blake: my parents for understanding how much time it took away from them and my education, and Randall and Blake for understanding why I wasn't there to help with homework. Last but definitely not least, I thank God for giving me the strength and courage to face my fears in order that I accomplish my goals.

As the final page is turned, I can now see how the hard work and dedication paid off. I would like to wish the best of luck to whomever is lucky enough to receive the title of editor of the '96 BACKLOG. Not enough words can express how grateful I am for everyone who helped throughout this endevor.

THANKS TO ALL!!!

Have we convinced you that there's more to Lipscomb than just the traditional? We hope that we have, but if not, we're not too upset. We understand and admit that the traditional must mix with the new to get DLU.

In the meantime, check out Aaron Kelley. Maybe this picture will nudge the undecided!
